Get Ready for Next Season!

Spring for Art! 2016 This amazing auction of fine arts & collectibles happens only every third year and will be held here at TCA again in spring of 2016. Start looking this summer to identify any of those special treasures to donate to this fundraising event. Everyone looks forward to being a part of this auction either as buyers or donors. It's fun and is always the center's largest fundraiser.

Book Sale During the Festival of the Arts in February, the patio here at TCA will be turned into a huge sale of used books, both fiction and non-fiction. Everyone has paperback and hardback books that they have already read in their homes. Next fall we'll start collecting books for this special sale. Readers love to be able to find new books to enjoy and the patio at Festival time will be a great place for book browsers. Start collecting treasures and books for both of these events and we'll let you know when to bring in your donations.

As I see it...

As we leave another season, it is time to reflect the impact TCA has made on the community. It is amazing to see how a mass of volunteers can team up to make the exhibitions, home and garden tours, lectures, campaigns, and many more a success. Outside of a handful of staff members, TCA runs with approximately 120 volunteers with responsibilities that range from gallery docents to board members. Our volunteers come from Tubac, Green Valley, Rio Rico, and Nogales and they bring with them valuable experiences from previous careers they left behind. It is also important to realize that volunteer positions require time commitments with no monetary rewards. So then what are the rewards of contributing time and effort to TCA?

Gaining new experience and insights.
Giving back and being part of a community.
Creating connections with people with a purpose.
Healing weary minds and hearts.
Getting a sense of accomplishment.
Using the talent and positive character traits we possess.
Making ourselves matter.

Many times, volunteers reach the point when they feel the time spent at TCA is insignificant and how little an impact they make overall. Some may find the position as unglamorous and some jobs require so much time it makes one say, "I don't have to do this" aka - Burn out! Feeling fatigue and resentment is very real when we start to entertain doubt about making a difference. Where's the fun? Volunteer positions at TCA are so varied and numerous that options are always available to make a change. Communication is vital and it is important that we feel we have been heard. Above all, fun begins when you make new friends and share the joy of working together. It is truly a network of people working together that form a community in itself, one that strongly supports the arts, and one that makes Tubac a good place to be. A great THANK YOU to all those that make it happen.

While escaping the heat this summer, do recharge your enthusiasm and creativity by visiting museums and galleries, regional art centers, and the new Whitney museum. Spend some time to contemplate on new ideas, pick up a sketchbook or journal, sharpen your skills, and share with friends and through social media. Sometimes the path to rejuvenation is as simple as walking through the woods to balance the body, mind, and spirit.

Board Bits

by Board President, Mike Jacoby

In our continuing efforts to make the Tubac Center of the Arts the best it can be, the Board of Directors met in a full day Strategic Planning Session in April.

I will summarize those objectives from our prior Strategic Plan and our success in meeting those objectives.

(1) Objective... Build our membership and particularly our Circles of Support (1) Results.... membership increased by over 80 and is only 6 shy of being the highest in the last decade. Circles of Support members and contributions have increased by over 30%. (2) Objective... Enhance TCA's role as the core of Tubac's artistic identity and showcase more "excellent" art (2) Results We adopted a mission that TCA is the core of Tubac's artistic identity and our marketing materials reinforce that message. In the 2014 Members' Survey, every group noticed and appreciated the improved quality of the artwork as demonstrated by high impact shows like "Woven Nation & Under the Desert Stars". (3) Objective.... Achieve positive financial sustainability. (3) Results... We achieved the goal of 5% revenue growth on a rolling 3-year basis over the last two years and are projecting to meet that goal this year.

The new 2016-2018 Strategic Plan recognizes the importance of goals achieved in our previous plan and identifies new objectives in the following general categories. (1) Financial Sustainability: To develop long term sources of income that includes revenue & endowment growth, (2) Performing Arts: To successfully transition and enhance the program. (3) Operational: To develop an "Operational Plan" that will balance staff resources, systems and processes and to recruit, train and retain a cadre of volunteers (4) Showcase "excellent art: There is great promise to continue our efforts with "The Tucson Seven" exhibit of these historic and world-class artists next fall as well as a strategy for artistic recognition of Tubac and Santa Cruz Valley artists as well as those inducted in the "Master Artist Gallery".

These are serious goals but ones that this Board and Staff are capable of!

On a closing note, I was at the Art Center one day last week looking at the "Hi-Art" Exhibit. Also in the gallery was a teacher from Sahuarita High School with 4 special education students, two of whom had pieces in the exhibit. I asked them to show me their art. With broad grins and an aura of confidence and extreme pleasure, they led me to see their artwork. It doesn't get any better than that!

Summer Arts Program 2015

Youth between the ages of 6-14 will be here in June with their creative energy and working on making masks, illustrating, poetry, dance and more. For the four-week program the fee is $200 per student, three weeks for $165, two weeks for $115 and $60 for one week. Many families, especially those with more than one child, need scholarship assistance. Funding is needed for 20 full scholarships.

Support for this program comes from the Santa Cruz Community Foundation, The Greater Green Valley Community Foundation, the White Elephant and people like you. Thanks to Dan Kirkham, Sharon Irish and Ellen Whittlesey who have already donated scholarship funding for this year. Call, stop by or send you donation specifying it is for Summer Arts. You can help make it possible for a student to have an experience this summer they will always remember.

2014-15 Volunteer Honor Roll

Each year at the Spring Volunteer Appreciation Breakfast we recognize volunteers who have dedicated so much of their time here working at the Gift Shop, as a Gallery Host, Office Volunteer, helping hang exhibits, organize Special Events and so much more. Volunteers are what make it possible for TCA to have the quality of programs and exhibits enjoyed by members and visitors alike. We couldn't function without the dedication of these outstanding volunteers on this year's Honor Roll and the many others who help whenever and wherever a need exists. No matter how many hours of time given, we thank each and every one of our wonderful core of volunteers.

Congratulations to everyone on this year's Honor Roll of Volunteers!
